ABOUT ME

I joined an Industrial Technical Institute in the Department of Computers in 2013, then I joined the Faculty of Specific Education, Ain Shams University in 2015 and was in second place in the overall ranking.

I started working as a php developer since 2016.

I was working with softagi company and I created a page for the company using wordpress and I created a complete ecommerce project in addition to the APIs to work with Android applications.

In 2019, I established the first website for the Department of Education Technology - Faculty of Specific Education - Ain Shams University and received a certificate of appreciation for that.

I also created entire learning platforms using PHP LARAVEL.
